CITY TRUSTEES

Protest Against Annexation Election Received—Ferry Gets Verdugo Road Contract—Officials Report

All members present. Minutes read and demands presented. Public works committee reported progress in matter of grade on Central avenue, which they had under consideration with a view to removing danger from storm water; asked for further time, which was granted. City officers rendered monthly reports. As to whether the lighting department should join with telephone company in joint use of poles, was referred to public works committee and city attorney. Manager of lighting department instructed to take up with Mr. Brand the matter of the city taking over a portion of his lighting system. The question of letting contract on Verdugo road in which Mr. Howard of Los Angeles and Mr. Ferry of Glendale were low bidders (a difference of about $40 in favor of Howard) came up after having been deferred for a week on account of apparent irregularity of Mr. Howard's bid. The city attorney gave a written opinion to the effect that it was a matter for the city engineer to determine as to whether the bid for "macadamizing" included "grading and oiling," this being the point on which the Howard bid was irregular. Upon the reading of this report the trustees fell back upon the city engineer who finally gave a written report to the effect that "the bid of D. C. Howard is not regular," and recommending the letting of the contract to Peter L. Ferry. Later in the evening the trustees adopted the report of the city engineer, Mr. Lynch, and awarded the contract to Ferry.

The city attorney reported that the report of the referee in the Brand boulevard widening case had been filed with the court and day set for hearing. Request of Harry Chase for permission to put a driveway at 117 S. Maryland avenue was granted. A protest addressed to the city trustees was received from Messrs. Haas and Dunnigan, warning the board not to certify to the secretary of state the result of the annexation election of last Saturday, warning the members that they would be held severally and personally responsible. Several grounds for protest were alleged, some old and a few new, the latter growing out of alleged irregularities in the conduct of election of officers in the outside precinct. The protest was referred to the city attorney. A petition signed by 54 owners of property on Fourth street representing 12,000 feet of frontage, requesting that the name of Fourth street be changed to Broadway. The petition was referred to the city attorney to prepare the necessary ordinance.

A petition was received from a committee of ladies representing the Tuesday Afternoon Club, reading as follows: "Resolved, That we are unalterably opposed to the granting of a license to establish and maintain an open pool room in our municipality and that we hereby petition the trustees to continue the refusal of a license to any and all persons for such purposes." Petition filed. Communication in regard to sidewalks on Columbus street referred to public works committee and city engineer. A petition for the improvement of Vine street was referred to the city engineer. The sale of electric railway franchise on Fourth street from Glendale avenue to Western City Limits as heretofore advertised, then came up. E. D. Goode being the only bidder, the franchise was awarded to him for the sum of $60; being merely the amount required to pay the expenses of advertising and sale. A motion was adopted to the effect that when adjournment takes place it be to 8:30 a. m. Friday, when the board will consider the acceptance of the city hall building.

The clerk was instructed to make provision for an advisory vote on the pool room question, to be taken separately, but at the same time and places as the regular city election on the 8th.

FRATERNAL BROTHERHOOD ENTERTAINMENT.

Tonight at their lodge rooms in K. of P. hall the Fraternal Brotherhood lodge of Glendale gives a grand class initiation which will be conducted by the Santa Monica degree team. A large number of visitors from other lodges, particularly Tropico, Eagle Rock, Hollywood and Santa Monica are expected to be present. A banquet and dance will wind up the evening.

BASEBALL.

At the grounds at Verdugo Park Sunday, the 24th, there was a game of baseball between the Verdugo team and the Crescents of Los Angeles. It was a close and lively game, ten innings were necessary to decide it, but the Crescents finally won by a score of 2 to 1.

On the 31st the Verdugo team played the Jose Villa combination from Los Angeles; playing in this case eleven innings, and the home team winning by a score of 5 to 4.

The literary section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. P. S. McNutt.

TO THE TOP OF MT. VERDUGO

Grand Scenic Project

Capt. S. L. Phillips was in Glendale Wednesday morning and went up into Verdugo Canon on a visit in connection with the project he is promoting for the building of a scenic railway to the top of Mt. Verdugo. Capt. Phillips has been working on this scheme for some time past and informs us that it is well financed and is to be pushed through to completion as soon as certain details regarding routes can be settled. The mechanical device for the working of the cars is on a new principle. Capt. Phillips being the representative of the inventor. The original plan contemplated a railway beginning at the base of the mountain back of Casa Verdugo and running to the summit by a fairly direct course. At this point in the proceedings entered Mr. Mesnager owner of the land on the north slope and on the summit of the mountain and plans had to be modified somewhat as to the route to be followed which at this time seems to be somewhat uncertain. The great value of such an enterprise to Glendale and vicinity cannot easily be overestimated and no doubt the project will receive all the ncouragement that our people can give.

BURGLARS AND SNEAK THIEVES.

Householders Should Be Careful.

There were three or four robberies of houses in Glendale and vicinity last week, and in none of the cases was there any arrest or any positive clue to the perpetrators. One was at MacMullin's dairy, where a thief gained entrance at night into rooms occupied by employes of the dairy and carried off a large stock of clothing and other valuables. On Wednesday afternoon or evening, as reported in last week's NEWS, the residence of R. E. Whitaker on Seventh street was entered and several valuables taken. Mrs. Mabel L. Tight, on Third street, east of Glendale avenue, lost a gold watch, taken by a sneak thief one day during the week. Houses left vacant during day or evening offer a great temptation to roaming crooks, and possibly to local operators, and householders should be on their guard against suspicious characters who wander around in the guise of agents for the sale of various articles. One of these is suspected of being responsible for one or more of these offenses.

Mr. Harry L. Howe of Burchette street is spending his vacation in the Coachella Valley.

THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING.

More than charming in every detail and arrangement was the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. William Lee, celebrated in their home on Belmont street, Saturday, March 30.

Dinner was served at high noon. The dining room was converted into a canopy of gold and green, with long streamers of satin ribbon and masses of California poppies and ferns; beneath the canopy two long tables were spread, beautiful in their appointments of gold and white. A mound of golden poppies graced the center of each table, while gold and white place cards marked covers arranged for thirty friends and relatives who had gathered from far and near to be present at the joyous occasion.

Of unusual interest was the vest worn by Mr. Lee—the quaint, old-fashioned, black satin vest which he had worn on that happy day fifty years ago.

Following the dinner, a long, pleasant afternoon was enjoyed in the flower-adorned parlors and on the verandas, renewing old friendships and recalling old times.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee were made the delighted recipients of a large number of very handsome gifts.

Those who gathered to enjoy the day were: Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Harrison of Glendale, Mrs. Edgar Leavitt of Glendale, Mrs. G. Winslow of Glendale, Mrs. Emily Hardin of Glendale, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Weller of Long Beach, Mr. Frank Weller of Long Beach, Mrs. Lide Crawford of Long Beach, Mrs. Cora Crawford of Long Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Bradway and Miss Harriet Bradway of Hollywood, Mr. and Mrs. H. MacGregor and family of Willowbrook, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Lee, Mr. Raymond Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Mittenberger, all of Los Angeles. Mr. and Mrs. Ed. M. Lee of Cedar street were present with their family as assistant host and hostess.

DOUBLE ANNIVERSARY DINNER.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Pigg of 106 Orange avenue entertained at dinner Thursday evening in honor of their seventeenth wedding anniversary and in honor of Mr. Pigg's birthday anniversary.

Table decorations and dainty appointments were carried out in pale pink. A profusion of pale pink carnations and ferns furthered the harmony of the color scheme. Hand-painted place cards marked covers laid for Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, Miss Winifred Jones, Mrs. M. E. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Phillips and Miss Anna Ewell Phillips.

VOTE YES
Monday Evening, April 1.
Polling Place, 106 Orange Street, Glendale.
Hours, 8 to 11 o'clock.
Mattison B. Jones, Judge.
Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, Clerk.

Caution: Ladies and gentlemen attired in evening dress not allowed to vote.

No electioneering within 100 feet of the polls.

Drop a card to the clerk to reserve your ballot.

Pursuant to the call of Judge Mattison B. and Clerk Mrs. Jones for a post-annexation election to be held at their home, 106 Orange street, Glendale, there met as wild-eyed a bunch of voters as ever surrounded a polling booth.

The first thing that met the eye was an immense banner inscribed with the words "Vote Yes," and some who were in doubt as to the legality of holding an annexation election entirely within the boundaries of Glendale were about to turn back, when one, more astute than the others, cried out, "April Fool," and the meaning of the mystifying dodgers that had been left at the homes of the former neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Jones was explained. Entering the spacious and lovely new home, the company realized that it was not an election, after all, but a house-warming, to which they had been invited.

To recount all of the amusing stunts of the entertainers would require too much time and space, since most of the guests were called upon to add to the amusement.

The contest of wits between Mrs. George Holman and Mrs. Charles P. Huey on the subject, "What Woman Has Done to the Ballot," resulted in favor of Mrs. Holman, whose prize consisted of a small box on one side of which was printed "The smallest goose in the world," and which, upon being opened, revealed a tiny china gosling. The reverse side of the box bore the inscription, "The biggest goose in the world," and when lifted disclosed a mirror.

The speechmaking of Mr. Sternberg and Mr. Kelly, the debate on "How to Call an Annexation Election," participated in by Mayor White, Mr. Huey and City Attorney Evans, the readings given by Mrs. Evans and the duets by Mesdames Jones and Pigg and by Mr. and Mrs. Elmer E. Evans were all highly entertaining and amusing, but the crowning event was the solo sung by the host.

Mr. Jones' friends have long been acquainted with his versatility as a lawyer, an orator and a campaigner, but never before had they been conscious of his talent as a singer, so that his majors and minors, his wonderful register, and his expression, when applied to that touching ballad, "The Battle of theNile," was a revelation.

Everything was a huge joke; even the delicious refreshments stood rigid examination, since cotton can look mightily like frosting; but the realities were quite sufficient, and the company was only induced to withdraw when the judge and the clerk announced the election closed and bade their guests good-night.

A GUEST.

ACCORDING TO THE LAW.

City Clerk Woodberry has been the subject of some campaign criticism for the manner in which sample ballots for the coming city election are printed—all of the candidates on the ticket being designated as "Independent" instead of being classed under the name of the various clubs, leagues, etc., which put them in nomination. The ballots are strictly in accordance with the law which says that "All candidates nominated by petition shall be designated as "Independent." Complaint has also been made that these ballots were not mailed as required by law, ten days previous to election. There was some apparent ground for this complaint from the fact that the sample ballots did not reach voters promptly. Investigation at the postoffice showed that the ballots were put in the postoffice in good time and that it was a physical impossibility for the postoffice people to deliver such a mass of mail, without great delay in some cases covering several days. In the case of both annexation and municipal elections there were approximately 1600 ballots to be mailed in each case and the multiplicity of addresses made the delivery a matter of such magnitude that with the force at its disposal the postoffice people could not possibly get them all to their destination promptly.

IMPROVEMENT OF VERDUGO ROAD.

The contract was let Monday evening to Peter L. Ferry of Glendale for the improvement of Verdugo Road from the north to the south city limits of Glendale, a distance of about a mile and a half. This is the largest contract for street improvement ever let in the city, the total contract price being $24,830.66. The lowest bidder was Mr. Howard of Los Angeles, but owing to an irregularity in his bid the contract was given Mr. Ferry, there being only a difference of about $40.00 between them. The specifications require six inches of crushed rock in the center of the roadbed, tapering to two inches, being a higher quality of improvement than on any street in the city except the west end of Sixth street. The contract for Sixth street east of Glendale Annex will be let soon.

Mrs. Charles H. Temple and family of 301 Orange street returned to her home on Wednesday after a delightful month's outing enjoyed in Ocean Park.

ELECTIONS—PAST, PRESENT AND FUTURE

Annexation Carries—School Bonds Defeated—School Trustee Election Day—Municipal Election Monday—Facts and Comment

Today the election will occur for the selection of school trustees, both for High and Grammar schools. Contrary to custom, and not in strict accordance with the law, the polling places will not be at the school house, but at the same places where the bond and annexation elections have been held, at 549 West Fourth street, 1111 West Fourth street, and at the corner of Dryden and Brand. It will be the liveliest school election ever held in the valley. The school question has been so confounded with politics and personalities that other things more legitimate will have little part in it, and no one can foretell the outcome.

It is admitetd, however, that all of the candidates are good citizens, and whatever the result there need be no fear that our schools will suffer. The list of candidates follows, the name of Mr. R. C. Sternberg having been added within the past week:

Three-year term—A. B. Heacock, Mrs. Ella C. Witham.

Two-year term—J. O. Elliott, J. E. Hellyer, Dr. C. S. Westlake.

One-year term—Dr. T. S. Crosswell, R. C. Sternberg.

The above are Grammar school candidatsc. For High school the following aspirants are in the field, three to be selected: D. Griswold, Dr. A. L. Bryant, C. W. Young, Mrs. Rosa Winterburn.

MONDAY'S ELECTION.

Precinct No. 1—North of Fourth street, east of Louise. Polling place, 247 South Glendale avenue.

Precinct No. 2—North of Fourth street and west of Louise. Polling place, northwest corner First and Brand.

Precinct No. 3—South of Fourth, west of Louise. Polling place, northeast corner Lomita and Brand.

Precinct No. 4—South of Fourth, east of Louise. Polling place, southeast corner Sixth and Glendale.

Candidates:

Trustees (three to be chosen)—W. A. Anderson, A. F. Howard, O. A. Lane, J. W. Lawson, Frank J. Showalter, A. W. Tower, T. W. Watson, R. H. Wells.

City clerk—H. L. Whaley, Geo. B. Woodberry.

City treasurer—G. B. Hoffman.

To the list of candidates for trustee must be added the name of R. L. Hinckley, whose name the Socialists have agreed to write in on their ballots. A heavy vote will no doubt be polled, and there are so many crossed wires that the result can only be told when the ballots are counted. It is a pretty sure thing that Watson for trustee and Woodberry for city cledk will come out winners, while of course Hoffman has the field to himself. The friends of the others are breezily confident, or pretend to be, all of which amounts to the same thing previous to the voting. Back of the idea of getting two new members on the board of trustees is the evident desire of Trustee Coker to become the mayor of Glendale, as president of the board of trustees, replacing Mr. White, the present chairman. It is no sure thing that this will take place unless the two possible new members are just the right ones for the successful playing of the game, the outcome of which is uncertain enough from more than one point of view to make it interesting. The air is full of rumors, most of them untrue. A sample of these is the one to the effect that Mr. Wilmot Parcher is to be an eleventh-hour candidate for city clerk, a yarn which no one who knows Mr. Parcher will credit for a moment. The wise citizen will weigh well the probabilities of any of these roorbacks before he swallows them.

ANNEXATION ELECTION.

It is now "Greater Glendale," and likely to remain so, notwithstanding the objections of the irreconciliables, chief among whom is our esteemed fellow citizen, Sidney Dell. The election came off on Saturday, as scheduled. Within the city it was a matter of form, but a good vote was polled, there being 298 votes cast, all in favor of annexation except 29. The contest was warm, in fact hot, at the outside precinct, where the vote at the close stood 86 to 70 in favor of annexation. It looked very much during the early part of the day as if the antis would win out, but the pros turned out later and won by a margin small but sufficient. Attorney Walter Haas, who is making a record recently as a remarkably successful loser, has filed a protest on several counts which his fertile imagination suggested, but they are not likely to be sustained by the court. One of these is the charge that certain citizens entitled to vote were not allowed to do so, but that evidently rests upon the fact that applicans were not willing to take the oath as to residence when challenged, and the other side asserts that three of those who got their votes in early, before anyone was on hand to challenge them, were not entitled to vote.

BOND ELECTION.

The election on the question of issuing bonds to the extent of $35,000 for the purchase of five acres of ground at $3,000 an acre, on the corner of Central avenue and Dryden, and the erection of a school house thereon, came off last Thursday. There were 842 votes cast, of which 531 were in favor, and 311 against. As two-thirds of the total vote cast is required to carry a bond election, it failed by a lack of 30 votes. It is probable that the question will come up again soon on an amended proposition, although there is some talk of cutting off from Glendale and organizing an independent district.

The state of California now requires an annual financial statement from cities of the sixth class. When our city clerk sent the statement of Glendale last July he requested an additional blank, which, when received contained a note from the state controller as follows:

"Mr. G. B. Woodberry.
Dear Sir:
Enclosed herewith extra copy of financial statement and I want to take this opportunity of complimenting you on your report.
Very truly yours,
A. B. NYE, Controller.
By C. E. Cooper, Clerk.

Mr. Anthony Ambrosini, who has for the past few months been at his ranch in the San Joaquin valley, has been spending the past week until Tuesday, in Glendale. On that day he left for St. Paul accompanied by his son John who has been spending the winter with his father. Mr. Ambrosini is the superintendent of a large cemetery at St. Paul, and returns there to initiate his son into the duties of the position held by the father. In the course of a few months Mr. Ambrosini, senior, hopes to return to California, as he has large interests in Glendale and elsewhere in the state.

THE PRESIDENT'S ECONOMY RECORD

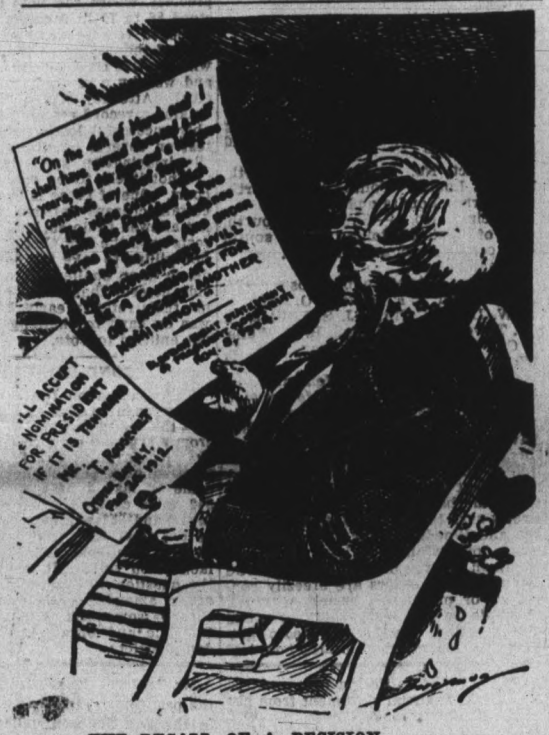
Taft Insists That Government Be Run on Sound Business Basis.

HIS PROGRESSIVE POLICY.

His Personal Efforts to Reduce Cost of Efficient Service Bring Results—Business Methods Applied—Economy and Efficiency Commission Fought by Democrats.

President Taft more than any of his predecessors in the White House has given strict attention to placing the government upon a business basis as regards its receipts and expenditures. Economy and efficiency became one of the cardinal policies of his administration as soon as he entered upon the presidency, and it was well for the country that this was so, for his administration inherited a deficit in the treasury of $58,000,000, which has now been transformed into a surplus of $30,000,000. The average citizen and taxpayer will be interested in this fact, because the problem which confronted the president at the outset, although upon a gigantic scale, was similar to that of the ordinary shopkeeper or business man, farmer or wage earner or even housewife who is called upon to make "both ends meet" either in business or in the home.

By law the secretary of the treasury is called upon every year to submit to congress in December the "estimates" of governmental expenditures for the next fiscal year, beginning the following July 1. As congress has to provide the money to run the government, the money has to be appropriated for specific purposes before it can be expended, and if this were not done before the beginning of the fiscal year the machinery of government would stop unless emergency provision could be made.



"On the 4th of March next I will have served three and one-half years of my term as President. During that time the Congress has enacted more legislation of importance than any Congress for a generation. I will not undertake to say that I will be responsible for all of it, but I will say that I am responsible for a good deal of it. I will say that I am responsible for the Payne Tariff Law, for the Postal Savings Bank Law, for the Parcels Post Law, for the Publicity Law, for the Denatured Alcohol Law, for the Law providing for Didn't Like Questions.

Bishop Thrilwall, an English prelate, had the greatest possible aversion to answering questions. One day a tailor said to him when he had been summoned to take the bishop's measurements, "What are your lordship's orders?" "I want a suit of clothes." "Here is a very nice cloth, my lord." "Ah!" "And this is likewise a very good one." "Yes." "Here is another, of excellent quality." "Very." "Which material will your lordship decide upon?" "I want a suit of clothes!" And that was all the answer the tailor could get. When the new gardener accosted him as he was walking, book in hand, in the garden to ask, "How will your lordship have this border laid out?" there was no answer. "How will your lordship be pleased to have this border laid out?" was the next attempt. Still there was no reply. But when the question was repeated for the third time the answer came, "You are the gardener, I believe, and I am the bishop!"

World's Most Valuable Garden.

The Bank of England has an old fashioned garden in its midst. In the center is a fountain, there are a couple of trees, and the paths are graveled. This garden has a curious history. In reality it is the churchyard of the vanished Church of St. Christopher le Stock, which used to stand on the site of the Mansion House. One reason why the church was pulled down was because its tower completely overlooked the bank, and it was feared that it would be a danger to the "old lady" if the church was occupied by rioters. As the bank occupies the site of the entire parish of Christopher le Stock it is said that any freeman of the city of London can claim admission to the old garden. As a matter of fact, any one who cares to see it may do so during business hours, and it is well worth a visit, if only for the fact that it is the most valuable garden in the world.—London Spectator.

Transportation in Charles II.'s Time.

On the best highways heavy articles were in the time of Charles II. generally conveyed from place to place by stage wagons. In the straw of these vehicles nestled a crowd of passengers who could not afford to travel by coach or on horseback and who were prevented by infirmity or by the weight of their luggage from going on foot. The expense of transmitting heavy goods in this way was enormous. From London to Birmingham the charge was £7 ($35) a ton, from London to Exeter £12 ($60) a ton. This was about 30 cents a ton for every mile. The cost of conveyance amounted to a prohibitory tax on many useful articles. Coal in particular was never seen except in the districts where it was poduced or in the districts to which it could be carried by sea and was indeed always known in the south of England by the name of sea coal.—Macaulay.

Meals in the Good Old Days.

In the sixteenth century it was considered a sign of effeminacy to eat breakfast. Says Harrison in his "Description of Britain," published in 1550: "Of old we had breakfastes in the forenoone, beverages or nuntions after dinner, and thereto reare suppers. Now these old repasts, thanked be God, are verie well left, and each one, except here and there some young hungrie stomach that cannot fast till dinner time, contenteth himself with dinner and supper only. The nobility, gentry and students ordinarily go to dinner at 11 before noon and to supper at 5. The merchants dine and sup seldom before 12 at noon or 6 at night, especially in London. The husbandmen also dine at high noon and sup at 7 or 8, but out of terms, in our universities, the scholars dine at 10."—London Chronicle.

The Old Dodge.

"Brown has refused to give us an extra day's time to meet his bill. He says it's been running long enough."

"Didn't you tell him we'd give him a check for the full amount the day after tomorrow?"

"I did. He said that wouldn't do. He wanted it in the morning."

"All right. Mail him a check today and forget to have it signed. There's more than one way of stretching credit if you have to."—Detroit Free Press.

Useless Salutes.

"I wonder," said the man of a statistical turn—"I wonder how much powder is destroyed daily in useless salutes?"

"There must be a lot," said the frivolous girl, "but I suppose women will go on kissing one another just the same."

Calling Terms.

Visiting Curate — I've just been speaking to your neighbor, Mrs. Noggin. Are you on calling terms with her? Mrs. Littledrop—Yes. She called me no lady, and I called her a bottle nosed old draggletail.—London Answers.

Another Form of Expression.

Tommy—Pop, what do the dramatic critics mean by spontaneous applause? Tommy's Pop—It is merely another way of saying the ushers are earning their salaries, my son.—Exchange.

Wanted to Finish the Job.

"Now, Willie, promise me you won't fight any more."

"Can't you wait till tomorrow, mother? I've only got one more boy to lick an' then I'll be through."—Life.

Interested Spectators.

"You want me to pull a tooth out for you, Hans? And what do all the others want?"

"To watch you."—Pflegende Blatter.

THIS PAPER WILL HELP YOU

WHAT would be thought of a public official who did not read the papers? Even the criticisms of him are valuable pointers as to how he may render better service.

HE IS ELECTED TO REPRESENT THE PUBLIC. THE NEWSPAPERS ARE THE VOICE OF THE PUBLIC.

The paper is a help to every class. The workingman may find through it a chance to better his situation. It is an invaluable aid to the housewife in her shopping.

The boy who reads the papers may go some day to the state senate or to congress. The one who does not will vegetate.

TAKE THE HOME PAPER.

The famous toast to "the three R's—reading, 'riting and 'rithmetic"—was made by Sir William Curtis, lord mayor of London, in the year 1795 and for many years one of the wardens of the tower. What made it more ludicrous was that he proposed it at a dinner given by the London board of education. It was received with great applause and drunk amid much merriment. At the time it was recognized as a jest, but was afterward taken up in earnest by the mayor's detractors, who have handed his name down to posterity as a blundering ignoramus. A writer has now come to his defense and says that when he was a boy an aged member of the board of education assured him that Sir William knew better and that he really used his famous alliteration as a jest. To many people, however, the story will always sound better when it is based upon the belief that Sir William was really serious.

New Fashion in Horse Shoes.

Hubby—I must take him to the blacksmith. He needs new shoes. Wife—Can't you have the old ones soled and heeled? The uppers look perfectly good.—Harper's Weekly.

GLENDALE, CAL., APRIL 5, 1912

"Whom the gods would destroy they first make mad." There are indications of declining sanity on the part of our ex-president.

In a recent number of the New York Independent, President Schurman of Cornell University publishes a brief but logical argument against the nomination of ex-President Roosevelt for the presidency.

A present consisting of 3000 cherry trees has been shipped from Japan to the United States. They are to be planted along one of the broad avenues of the city of Washington to serve as living witnesses of the friendship between the two countries.

It is the blessed Easter time and the NEWS regrets that the pressure of such sordid matters as politics crowds out of our columns matter particularly appropriate to the season. It is recommended that citizens generally attend the Easter services in the churches Sunday next and endeavor therefrom to get that moral uplift which all of us so greatly need.

"The city of Los Angeles has just bought two acres in the tract on which it will erect a school.

"Almost within a stone throw of Glendale's churches, schools, stores and social center."

Both of these statements appear in an advertisement of a tract of land in this valley as advertised in a Los Angeles paper. It's a pretty good stone throw from Glendale's center to the limits of Los Angeles yet!

One of our most respected contemporaries expressed virtuous indignation recently at the fact that the Taft Bureau had proferred him free of charge plate matter booming Mr. Taft for nomination to the presidency. He intimated that the fact indicated possession of a "barrel." Possibly the inference was correct, but as there came to this office during the past week, express paid, similar matter from the Roosevelt bureau, we are of the opinion that there are two barrels anyhow and it is clear that our expresident has access to one of them.

The NEWS does not support in its entirety any one of the municipal tickets now before the people of Glendale, believing that none of them is calculated to best serve the public interest, although one of them may be nearer our ideal than the others. Our advice to voters is to go carefully in the matter of voting and not swallow their tickets straight.

Voters should support for re-election the city officials who have been tried and not found wanting, Messrs. Lane and Watson, City Clerk Woodberry and Treasurer Hoffman. Any change in the complexion of the board of trustees is at least an experiment, and experiments are always risky.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH TO BE ORGANIZED IN GLENDALE.

On Sunday afternoon some one hundred people gathered at the Majestic theater on Fourth street to determine whether it was best to organize a Christian Science church in Glendale. It was decided unanimously that there should be a church of this kind in Glendale, as there is a large number of members of this church here in the valley who make the trip to Los Angeles every Sunday in order to attend services. Final arrangements will be made later as to where the meetings will be held.

MAJESTIC THEATER.

Mr. Mozart, the new proprietor of the Majestic Theater on Fourth street near Brand, demonstrated his intentions to give Glendale people a chance to see a really first-class moving picture show at a low price by putting on the screen Monday and Tuesday the story of David Copperfield told in three reels. It was in every sense a high class entertainment and the familiar scenes from the well-known novel were illustrated by pictures taken in London and Yarmouth of the very scenes that were the originals of the story. Wednesday and Thursday Stevenson's Jekyl and Hyde was the subject of the pictures. The program will be changed three times a week. See advertisement elsewhere. A 3000-candlepower arc light has been placed over the theater entrance.

EVANGELISTIC MEETINGS.

A large and interesting meeting was held at the First M. E. church Sunday evening. The attendance was so large that many people were turned away. Rev. Humphrey, D.D., of the M. E. church, will be the preacher. At the Christian church another service will be held and Rev. E. H. Willisford of the Congregational church will be the preacher.

WANDERED FROM TROPICO AND THE STRAIGHT AND NARROW PATH.

A resident of Tropico wandered over the line into Glendale Sunday night and was so overcome by the change of atmosphere and the burst of light from the street lamps that he fell insensible upon the street at Riverdale Drive and Central avenue. Here he was found by Marshal Miller who put him in the Glendale bastile over night. He put up a very successful imitation of a drunken man, so much so that he was taken before Recorder Whomes and fined five dollars. He will wear goggles hereafter when away from home.

GOOD TIDINGS FROM SAN JACINTO

Great Excitement Over New Water Discovery.

An immense Underground Lake of Water has been discovered near San Jacinto, California. A mere crust of earth, in some places but a few feet in thickness, has shielded for ages an immense body of water, sufficient to flood the entire country for miles around, which means that this fertile, semi-tropical beauty spot will in short order be the Garden of Eden of the whole State. All these lands are unsurpassed in fertility, productiveness and climatic conditions. All of which is proven by the thousands of acres of beautiful orchards and thrifty ranches under a previous water development. We state, without fear of contradiction, that this neighborhood contains a greater number of well-kept fruit orchards than any other section of equal size in the whole State of California, and we state further that they will show a much greater percentage of profit. There is no scale or pests to fight, or failures to sadden the heart.

A Committee with autos has been appointed to show everybody around free, and we extend a hearty invitation to all of our good neighbors to see this beautiful little Valley of ours in all its glory. Come over on the Santa Fe in the morning, back in the evening. The San Jacinto Board of Trade, San Jacinto, Cal.

DEATH OF MRS. OGG.

Mrs. Sallie C. Ogg, wife of Thos. W. Ogg, died suddenly Wednesday morning at her home on Kenwood street. Mrs. Ogg had been subject during the past year to serious occasional attacks of stomach trouble. Tuesday she appeared to be in her usual health. She arose about six o'clock Wednesday morning and complained of not feeling well. Dr. Tholen was sent for and responded promptly but was unable to furnish relief, and his patient died about seven o'clock. The funeral will take place Friday afternoon at two o'clock from the rooms of the Pulliam Undertaking Company, interment at Forest Lawn. Mrs. Ogg was a native of Kentucky and with Mr. Ogg came to California 18 years ago for the latter's health. She was well known in Glendale society circles and had a large list of friends.

DEATH OF MRS. A. P. MEEKER.

Mrs. A. P. Meeker, residing on East Fourth street, died Friday afternoon. Mrs. Meeker had been an invalid for years and came to Glendale with her husband a few months ago, residing for a while with her son, Mr. R. W. Meeker on Sixth street. The body was taken to San Diego, her former home, for burial.

WATER COMPANIES' ANNUAL MEETINGS.

The Verdugo Pipe and Reservoir company held its annual meeting Monday evening electing the following directors and officers for the ensuing year: Mr. J. C. Sherer, president; Mr. P. A. C. Moore, vice president; Mr. R. H. Brown, Mr. Frank Campbell, Mr. J. L. McOmber. Mr. C. E. Parker was re-elected secretary. The company will do a large amount of work during the coming year in the way of lowering pipes to grade on Sixth street and Verdugo road, covering the reservoir and making other improvements.

The annual meeting of the Verdugo Canon Company was scheduled for Tuesday afternoon, but as usual there was no quorum present and the meeting adjourned to meet again on Tuesday, April 16th, at 1 p. m.

ATTEND THE BARBECUE AT OWENSMOUTH.

Saturday last a number of Glendale citizens went to Owensmouth at the head of the valley to attend the barbecue given at that place, when eight or ten thousand people from Los Angeles and vicinity assembled there to inaugurate the opening of that town. Among others from this vicinity was a party who were the guests of Mr. Ezra Parker and Mr. R. C. Sternberg who chauffeured their own autos on the occasion. The party consisted of Mr. Samuel Parker, Mr. Deal, sr., Mr. J. H. Flower, Mr. E. H. Owen, Mr. O. W. Tarr and Mr. J. C. Sherer. Going by way of Burbank and Lankershim the distance of thirty-one miles was made in good time. The wonderful development of the valley during the past six months was in evidence on every hand. At Owensmouth the only building at present is a neat depot, but plans are made and contracts entered into for the construction of over a dozen business structures, including bank, newspaper office, telephone office, electric light and power building and a lot of stores. Judging by what the same company has accomplished at Van Nuys where a hundred or so houses and business establishments have been erected in the past year, there is no doubt but that the growth of Owensmouth will eclipse anything that has yet been done in the San Fernando Valley. A large number of lots were sold on Saturday. The barbecue was a great success, the arrangements being as nearly perfect as is practicable on such occasions for the accommodation of the crowd of visitors. Showers during the afternoon spoiled the automobile races which were to have been the principal feature of the entertainment after the barbecue, but there were a number of airship flights for the delectation of the crowd and everybody went home happy. Returning the party came by San Fernando and noted the great improvements which have been made in that town during the past year or two. Between the Mission and Owensmouth a tract of several thousand acres belonging to Mr. L. C. Brand and others was passed with the new railroad being constructaed by the same company, another development project which is just now being pushed to a successful completion and promises to open up rapidly that immediate section.

CORRESPONDENCE

Glendale, April 4, 1912.

To the Citizens of Glendale:

It has been brought to my attention today that statements are being circulated, for political reasons, to the effect that I had written a letter acknowledging as untruthful statements concerning a certain candidate that were reputed as coming from me. I herewith deny the existence of any such letter, and brand as false any statement to the contrary, and defy anyone to produce any such letter written or signed by me.

HARRY A. LA GROSS.

To Editor GLENDALE NEWS.

Since we are among those who favored female suffrage we desire to say that we did so considering them as responsible equal reliable citizens. The trend of politics today is democratic, elevating every class and denouncing factions in any party, color or sex.

On this basis we deplore sex or factional delegations or representations the "Woman's meeting" held a few days since advocating and promoting certain candidates. It seems to me they could have far better "conserved" their interests and that of their candidates had it been more democratic and included all citizen voters.

Respectfully,
D. W. HUNT.

April 2, 1912.

Editor GLENDALE NEWS,

Dear Sir: It has come to my attention that certain persons are circulating stories to the effect that I have shown, during my incumbency of the office of city trustee, leanings toward that portion of the city in which I live. For a complete refutation of this report I refer to my record in office for the past two years. I have always advocated a united people and without preference to any particular section of the city; that our two business sections be drawn closer together by the building up of Fourth street and locating the public buildings midway between said business sections and as nearly central as possible, believing that to do this would the stronger cement the city, clear the atmosphere of rivalry (if any there be), and make the City of Glendale a city of progress and beauty, strength and harmony.

I have always been for a clean city, good government and progress. I have fought untiringly for a greater Glendale, a union of the whole valley. Those who opposed annexation are consistent in that they are now fighting me and the ideas which I have advocated and for which I have worked.

I stand where I have always stood, upon all public questions. I favor the provision of a place of public amusement for our young men and will work for such an improvement when I am shown that it will be placed under proper supervision.

O. A. LANE.

A NEW CANDIDATE FOR HIGH SCHOOL TRUSTEE.

A friend of the lady sends the NEWS the following information in regard to Mrs. Winterburn who will be a candidate for the position of High School trustee at today's (Friday's) election. Mrs. Winterburn resides on Boynton street, Tropico.

Mrs. Winterburn was for two years an assistant in the Michigan State Normal, before coming to California. In this state she has taught for six years in the San Diego high school, at a time when the organization and development of any high school was of importance and direct influence throughout the whole state. At Stockton, she at first had charge of the history and German in the high school; later she had the supervision of the elementary grades in history, civics, literature and language.

Mrs. Wnterburn is a graduate of the Michigan state normal school and of the State University at Ann Arbor. She is a graduate student of Berkeley; Columbia and the Sorbonne, Paris. She is a frequent instructor at county institutes and speaker at state association meetings, and is the author of several books.

The following letter also explains itself.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 28, 1912.

To Whom It May Concern:

I understand that Mrs. Winterburn's name has been mentioned as a possible candidate for the Union High school board. I wish to say that I have known Mrs. Winterburn for a number of years and consider her in every way a most superior woman. The quality of her education as well as her pleasing personality pre-eminently fit her for the place on the board of education which her friends wish to see her fill. Very truly,

J. H. FRANCES, Supt.

THE BOND ELECTION.

The proposition to issue bonds to the xtent of $35,000 for the purpose of supplying the Casa Verdugo section with a school house, was defeated last Thursday. It is rarely that a bond issue for an educational purpose fails, usually the election is carried by default, the proponents having a direct interest in the matter and working hard for it, and the rest of the people staying away from the polls. The result Thursday last does by no means indicate that the people at large are not in favor of building a school house in the section mentioned, but merely that they did not approve of the particular proposition. It is not necessary to look further for a cause for the defeat of the bonds than to the unusual amount of money asked for to purchase grounds which in the opinion of many, are not required for school purposes. The quantity of ground asked for was almost twice as much as is attached to the most favored (in that respect) school in the district, West Glendale, and is three times as much as either of the other schools possesses. This disparity in it self should indicate a degree of unfairness in the proposition, but when to this is added the fact that the price asked was considered by many to be unreasonably high, the question as to why the proposition was not supported answers itself. A few voters may have had other motives in their opposition, but the reason given is valid and those influenced by it should not be classed as being otherwise than good citizens, deciding a public matter according to their best judgment. The thing for our Casa Verdugo neighbors to do now is to remedy the mistake made in the rejected proposition by giving the people of the district an opportunity to vote on a proposal which will supply that section with as good a school house as there is in the district, with two or three acres of ground at a fair price, and it will undoubtedly receive the necessary support to carry it through, for the necessity for the school is apparent to every fair-minded citizen.

GLENDALE MEN ON FREEHOLDERS CHARTER COMMITTEE.

Mr. Frederick Baker and Mr. John R. White, jr., have been representing Glendale on the committee appointed to select fifteen freeholders to prepare a county charter. Mr. White acted as secretary of the committee and Mr. Baker has been selected as one of the fifteen who will draw up the charter which is to be submitted to the voters for the new county government law.

CITIZENS' LEAGUE MEETING.

The League met at K. of P. Hall Tuesday evening. There was a large attendance, and a musical program was sandwiched in between the speeches of candidates, making an interesting and attractive program. The three candidates of the League for school trustees, Mrs. J. N. Witham, Mr. J. E. Hellyer and Dr. T. S. Crosswell, were present and spoke on school matters. Candidates Lane, Whaley and others addressed the meeting. The subject of the next program will be a freeholders' charter.

WEST GLENDALE.

Mrs. Dora Gibson and son James are spending their vacation at Covina with Mrs. Gibson's mother and sister. "Happy Gibson" is enjoying the week with Mrs. F. G. Taylor and children of West First street.

Mr. and Mrs. John Haeg and family of West First street left for Spokane, Wash., last Monday where they expect to make their home. They took with them the body of their little six-year-old daughter who died a little less than a year ago, and which has been in the receiving vault in Los Angeles since then.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Kelty are rejoicing over the arrival of their daughter, Mrs. Mary Baxter and little son George of Cleveland, Ohio. Mrs. Baxter spent about two years with her parents some time ago, and made many friends while here. She was an earnest worker in the West Glendale M. E. church when it was "an infant" and was greatly surprised to see how it has changed in appearance since it has "grown up," and also at the wonderful growth of Glendale in general.

The pupils of the Eighth grade of the West Glendale school tendered their principal, Mrs. Taylor, a most pleasant surprise party at her home on West First street, recently. It was a genuine surprise, and although Mrs. Taylor was wholly unprepared to receive such a merry party of young folks, a very enjoyable evening was spent in games, etc. The surprisers brought a bountiful supply of good things to eat and to which every one did ample justice.

Mr. C. E. Clay who has been employed at the Glendale Steam Laundry for so long, expects to go into the laundry business in a short time in Los Angeles, in partnership with Mr. Howard, a former owner of the Glendale Laundry.

Richard Stine is about to commence the construction of a home on a lot adjoining that of his father Jesse Stine on West Fourth street.

Mr. W. D. Lathrop has rented his home on Hawthorne street to Mrs. Ward and daughter, but reserves apartments for himself and will still continue to make it his home.

Los Angeles parties are about to commence the erection of a modern residence on the south side of Ivy street, west of Columbus.

CASE OF COLLERAN Vs. LUND.

This case came up before Recorder Williams during the past week. Dr. Colleran [illegible] Potter Lund [illegible] performing an operation for appendicitis on the daughter of the latter. Grace Potter. It was claimed by the plaintiff that Mr. Lund had authorized the operation and agreed to see that the fee was paid. Mr. Lund disclaimed responsibility in the matter. The judge gave verdict against Mrs. Lund and released Mr. Lund from responsibility on the ground that the young woman was not under the control of this defendant and that she and the mother both had property of their own, and on the further ground that an oral guarantee is void, the latter view being sustained by the decision in a similar case in a higher court. Mr. P. S. McNutt was Mr. Lund's attorney, the other side being represented by attorneys from Los Angeles.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB.

The club will meet Tuesday afternoon, April 9, at the Country Club. Mrs. Harriet M. Myers, secretary of the Audubon Society, will speak on "Bird Life." Miss Edna Zyl Mochie, whistler, will give "The Broken-hearted Sparrow" (Bendix). The building and lands committee, under whose auspices the play, "Rebecca's Triumph," was given, wish to thank all those who contributed to the success of the entertainment. A neat little sum was realized, which will be used toward the purchase of a lot for a club house.

LEAGUE SOCIAL.

Remember the date, Tuesday, April 9th, at the West Glendale M. E. church. An entertainment will be given by the Epworth League. An especially fine program is being prepared, one number being the story of the wise and foolish virgins, given in song by ten young ladies. Refreshments. Admission 15c.

Miss Joyce Dominy of 1111 Seventh street was delightfully surprised on Friday evening by about twenty of her young friends, who gathered at her home, where a jolly evening was passed. Games and music were thoroughly enjoyed, followed by a delicious light supper.

Mrs. Leon H. Hurtt of Third street was among those present at the annual luncheon held on Wednesday in the Hotel Alexandria in honor of the officers and board of directors of Escholtzia Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Mrs. Adelaide Wise of Lomita avenue was hostess Friday evening of a charmingly arranged dancing party. About twenty guests, many of whom were from out of town, enjoyed her hospitality. Supper was served at a late hour.

Favoring G. B. Woodberry for City Clerk

Glendale, Cal., March 30th, 1912.

To those citizens of Glendale who know George B. Woodberry, City Clerk, it is unnecessary to address a word.

To those who do not know him we address the following:

The City of Glendale—its Trustees and all its officials, are indebted to George B. Woodberry, for his marked ability, absolute fidelity and tireless devotion coupled with uniform courtesy in fulfilling the duties of his office.

His official record can not be successfully attacked, as was proven by the recent injunction suit tried in the courts and decided in favor of the City and upholding every act of the City Clerk in the annexation election proceedings.

Such an official is invaluable to any city. If public officials are to be commended for faithful performance of their duties, then all who know what George B. Woodberry has done for Glendale will vote to re-elect him City Clerk. John Robert White, Jr., Rose L. White, W. E. Evans, Mrs. W. E. Evans, M. Ewell Smith, F. L. Paine, Mattison B. CHAPTER XXI.

BURNING DAYLIGHT.

AND then it happened. Tudor made his blunder. Never divining Joan's fluttering wildness, mistaking the warmth and enthusiasm in her eyes aroused by his latest tale, for something tender and acquiescent, he drew her to him, laid a forcible detaining arm about her waist and misapprehended her frantic revolt for an exhibition of maidenly reluctance. It occurred on the veranda after breakfast, and Sheldon, within, heard the sharp exclamation of Joan, followed by the equally sharp impact of an open hand against a cheek. Jerking free from the arm that was all distasteful compulsion, Joan had slapped Tudor's face resoundingly and with far more vim and weight than when she had cuffed Gogoomy.

Sheldon had half started up, then controlled himself and sunk back in his chair, so that by the time Joan entered the door his composure was recovered. Her right forearm was clutched tightly in her left hand, while the white cheeks, centered with the spots of flaming red, reminded him of the time he had first seen her angry.

"He hurt my arm," she blurted out in reply to his look of inquiry.

He smiled involuntarily. It was so like her, so like the boy she was, to come running to complain of the physical hurt which had been done her. She was certainly not a woman versed in the ways of man and in the ways of handling man. The resounding slap she had given Tudor seemed still echoing in Sheldon's ears, and as he looked at the girl before him crying out that her arm was hurt his smile grew broader.

It was the smile that did it, convicting Joan in her own eyes of the silliness of her cry and sending over her face the most amazing blush he had ever seen. Throat, cheeks and forehead flamed with the rush of the shamed blood.

"He—he"— she attempted to vindicate her deeper indignation, then whirled abruptly away and passed out the rear door and down the steps.

Sheldon sat and mused. He was a trifle angry, and the more he dwelt upon the happening the angrier he grew. Joan was the last woman in the world to attempt to kiss forcibly. The thing smacked of the backstairs anyway—a sordid little comedy perhaps, but to have tried it on Joan was nothing less than sacrilege. The man should have had better sense.

It was while in this mood that the screen door banged loudly behind the heels of Tudor, who strode into the room and paused before him.

"Well?" Tudor demanded defiantly.

And on the instant speech rushed to Sheldon's lips.

"I hope you won't attempt anything like it again, that's all—except that I shall be only too happy any time to extend to you the courtesy of my whaleboat. It will land you in Tulagi in a few hours."

"As if that would settle it," was the retort. "Now, let me tell you that the Solomon islands are not big enough for the pair of us. This thing's got to be settled between us, and it may as well be settled right here and now."

"I can understand your fire eating manners as being natural to you," Sheldon went on wearily, "but why you should try them on me is what I can't comprehend. You surely don't want to quarrel with me."

"I certainly do."

"But what in heaven's name for?"

Tudor surveyed him with withering disgust.

"You haven't the soul of a louse. I suppose any man could make love to your wife"—

"But I have no wife," Sheldon interrupted.

"Then you ought to have. The situation is outrageous. You might at least marry her, as I am honorably willing to do."

For the first time Sheldon's rising anger boiled over.

"You"— he began violently, then abruptly caught control of himself and went on soothingly. "I'll call the boat's crew and launch a boat. You'll be in Tulagi by 8 this evening."

He turned toward the door as if to put his words into execution, but the other caught him by the shoulder and twirled him around.

"Look here, Sheldon, I told you the Solomons were too small for the pair of us, and I meant it."

"Is that an offer to buy Berande, lock, stock and barrel?" Sheldon queried.

"No, it isn't. It's an invitation to fight."

"But what the devil do you want to fight with me for?" Sheldon's irritation was growing at the other's persistence. "I've no quarrel with you. And what quarrel can you have with me? I have never interfered with you. You were my guest. Miss Lackland is my partner. If you saw fit to make love to her and somehow failed to succeed, why should you want to fight with me? This is the twentieth century, my dear fellow, and dueling went out of fashion before you and I were born."

"You began the row," Tudor doggedly asserted. "You fired me out of your house. It won't do, I tell you. You started it, and I am going to see it through."

Sheldon smiled tolerantly and proceeded to light a cigarette.

"There isn't any row. It takes two to make a row, and I, for one, refuse to have anything to do with such tomfoolery."

"She's not your wife," Tudor continued, as though the other had not spoken. "A fellow has the right to make love to her unless she's your—well, perhaps it was an error, after all due to ignorance, perfectly excusable, on my part. I might have seen it with half an eye if I'd listened to the gossip on the beach. All Guvutu and Tulagi were laughing about it. The pair of you trapped me into making a fool of myself. How was I to know that everything was not all right? You and she acted as if everything were on the square. But my eyes are open now. Why, she played the outraged wife to perfection, slapped the transgressor and fled to you. Pretty good proof of what all the beach has been saying. Partners, eh? A business partnership? Gammon my eye, that's what it is."

Then it was that Sheldon struck out, coolly and deliberately, with all the strength of his arm, and Tudor, caught on the jaw, fell sideways, crumpling as he did so and crushing a chair to kindling wood beneath the weight of his falling body. He pulled himself slowly to his feet, but did not offer to rush.

"Now, will you fight?" Tudor asked grimly.

Sheldon made as if to repeat the blow, but Tudor, white of face, with arms hanging resistlessly at his sides, offered no defense.

"I don't mean a fight with fists," he said slowly. "I mean to a finish, to the death. You're a good shot with revolver and rifle. So am I. That's the way we'll settle it."

THERE IT WAS THAT SHELDON STRUCK OUT.

"But men don't act this way in real life," Sheldon remarked.

"You'll find I'm pretty real before you're done with me. I'm going to kill you today. Speaking of Joan"—

"Please keep her name out of it," Sheldon warned him.

"Oh, go ahead, knock me down. But that won't close my mouth. You can knock me down all day, but as fast as I get to my feet I'll speak of Joan again. Now, will you fight? I'll give you a fair chance to kill me, but I'll kill you before the day's out. This isn't civilization. It's the Solomon islands, and a pretty primitive proposition for all that. And two men and one woman is an equally primitive proposition. We'll settle it in the good old primitive way. I can't insult you directly, I know. You are too easy going or cowardly, or both, for that. But I can narrate for you the talk of the beach—ah, that grinds you, doesn't it? I can tell you what the beach has to say about you and this young girl running a plantation under a business partnership."

"Stop!" Sheldon cried, for the other was beginning again to vibrate and oscillate before his eyes. "You want a duel. I'll give it to you. But it is absurd. What kind of a duel shall it be? There are no seconds. What weapons shall we use?"

"I've often thought that the ideal duel should be somewhat different from the modern conventional one. No seconds, of course, and no onlookers. The two principals alone are necessary. They may use any weapons they please, from revolvers and rifles to machine guns and pompoms. They start a mile apart and advance on each other, taking advantage of cover, retreating, circling, feinting—anything and everything permissible. In short, the principals shall hunt each other"—

"Like a couple of wild Indians?"

"Precisely!" cried Tudor, delighted. "You've got the idea. And Berande is just the place, and this is just the right time. Miss Lackland will be taking her siesta, and she'll think we are. We've got two hours for it before she wakes. So hurry up and come on. You start out from the Balesuna, and I start from the Berande. Those two rivers are the boundaries of the plantation, aren't they? Very well. The field of the duel will be the plantation. Neither principal must go outside its boundaries. Are you satisfied?"

"Quite."

Sheldon clapped his hands, and the running-house boy hurried away to bring back Adamu Adam and Noa Noah.

"Listen," Sheldon said to them, "this man and me we have one big fight today. Maybe he die. Maybe I die. If he die, all right. If I die you two look after Missie Lacksianna. You take rifles and you look after her day time and night time. If she want to talk with Mr. Tudor, all right. If she not want to talk, you make him keep away. Savvee?"

They grunted and nodded, and each picked a rifle. Tudor, cartridge belts for rifle and pistol strapped around him, rifle in hand, stood impatiently waiting.

"Come on, hurry up, we're burning daylight," he urged, as Sheldon searched after extra clips for his automatic pistol.

Together they passed down the steps and out of the compound to the beach, where they turned their backs to each other, and each proceeded toward his destination, their rifles in the hollows of their arms, Tudor walking toward the Berande and Sheldon toward the Balesuna.

Relics of the Capet Family.

The descendants of Edouard Lasne, who was housekeeper of the Temple prison when the Capet family were there, gave to the Carnavalet museum, in Paris, some of the things which Louis XVI. and Marie Antoinette left in their rooms when they were taken to the scaffold. There are two chemises of fine linen belonging to Marie Antoinette. The crown which was embroidered on them has been picked out, and only the initial "M." remains. There is a black silk blouse, very much worn and mended in several places, which Marie Antoinette made with her own hands in prison and which was worn by the princess royal after her father's execution. There are also two pairs of the king's silk stockings (darned rather badly), a pair of "Mme. Royale's" little slippers, a crystal bottle which has a few drops of Marie Antoinette's favorite scent remaining in it and Louis XVI.'s shaving dish. But perhaps the most pathetic of the relics of the monarchy which went to pieces on the scaffold is a game of bricks with which the little dauphin, whose fate has always been and always will be a mystery, used to amuse himself in prison.

Turkish Women at the Theater.

A notice which is to be seen in one of the theaters of Constantinople effectively solves the problem of people at the back obtaining a clear view and is very much more radical than the polite request made in English and French theaters that ladies should not mar the view of the stage with huge hats. The notice reads: "In order to render the performance agreeable to all those present the management of the theater has decided that the spectators of the first three rows should recline, those of the next three rows be on their knees and all the others be standing up. In that way everybody will be able to enjoy the play." This notice is followed by a suggestion implying the Turkish woman's lack of romance, "It is strictly forbidden to laugh, for it is a tragedy that is being performed."—Le Monde Artiste.

A Genial Young Man.

Late one night young Jinks sat in a crowded trolley car, and when a girl he knew got aboard and stood directly in front of him he made no sign. His face hidden by his newspaper, he pretended that he didn't know the girl would like to have his seat. After awhile she spoke. "Good evening, Mr. Jinks!"

"Oh, good evening!"

"I've been to the Primrose Social dance." Then after a pause she added, "It's a wonder, Mr. Jinks, you wouldn't offer me your seat!"

Jinks then got up, but he was very angry. He said as he hooked himself to a strap, "I thought you wouldn't want it, for as you said you'd been to a dance I knew you must have been sitting all the evening."—New York Press.

If you bring a smile to the trembling lips of another you will soon discover that a smile is alighting on your own lips.

Diamond Cleaving.

The art of the lapidary is one of the most delicate employments of mechanical force known. The practical diamond cutter learns many facts about precious stones which are sealed books even to mineralogists. For instance, it is the lapidaries who have found out that diamonds coming from the different districts vary remarkably in their degrees of hardness. It appears that the hardest diamonds come from New South Wales. An unfamiliar fact is that diamonds are made to assume approximately the required shape by cutting and cleaving and by "bruting," which is the rubbing of one diamond against another, before they are submitted to the polishing wheel. In cleaving the diamond is cemented on the end of a wooden stick and a steel blade is driven with a smart blow in the direction of the natural plane of cleavage. Diamonds that have been cut by the lapidary's wheel lack some of the brilliance possessed by those that have simply been cleaved.—New York Press.

Good Weight.

One trick of the trade was taught to the young butcher by the marketman who gave him his first employment. The old dealer pointed to trays of beef, lamb and pork trimmings beneath the counter.

"When customers ask to have all the waste that has been cut from their own meat wrapped up with their order be sure to put in a few of these trimmings besides," he said. "Most always they want the scraps sent home so they can weigh the whole business and find out whether they are getting full weight or not. Enough extra pieces to tip the scales half an ounce beyond the supposed weight won't hurt anybody and will give us a good name."

Shortly after that the new clerk heard one frugal housewife say to another: "Oh, why don't you trade at Blank's? He gives such good measure, often almost an ounce more than you pay for."

The clerk smiled.—Washington Star.

Why Men Went West.

A hundred years ago the Rev. Timothy Dwight commented complacently on the benefit to Connecticut from the draining away to the frontier—then western New York—of the restless spirits who chafed under the rule of the old families and the Congregational clergy, writes Professor Edward Alsworth Ross in the Century. It never occurred to him that these insurgent spirits were carrying with them to the wilderness a precious energy and initiative. The unprosperous, the shiftless and the migratory sought the frontier, to be sure, but the enterprising, too, were attracted by it. The timorous and cautious stayed and accepted the cramping conditions of an old society, but those who dared take chances, to "place a bet on themselves," were apt to catch the western fever.

Precedent Nobly Ignored.

Had no important step been taken by the leaders of the Revolution for which a precedent could not be discovered—no government established of which an exact model did not present itself—the people of the United States might at this moment have been numbered among the melancholy victims of misguided councils; must at best have been laboring under the weight of some of those forms which have crushed the liberties of the rest of mankind. Happily for America—happily we trust for the whole human race—they pursued a new and more noble course.—James Madison.

The Judge's Advice.

The prisoner being without an advocate and the charge being one of murder, the judge asked a junior barrister to act as his counsel. The barrister did his best and at lunchtime privately asked the judge whether he should make a long speech for the defense or a short one.

"As long as you can make it," said his lordship enigmatically, "for that's the only chance the prisoner has of lengthening his life."—London Opinion.

The Good Old Days Long Gone.

A well known Bostonian recently found in his trunk an old diary with this entry: "Aug. 10, 1887. Went to the railroad station to see my sister off, and by some chance Harry Blank was there to see his sister off, and in the rush and noise and confusion we got mixed and I hugged his sister and he hugged mine."—Boston Transcript.

The Jerusalem Chamber.

One of the rooms in Westminster abbey that are of peculiar interest is the Jerusalem chamber, which was built more than 500 years ago and was probably at one time the abbot's withdrawing room. It was in this chamber that Henry IV. died, in curious fulfillment of a prophecy that he should die in Jerusalem:

It hath been prophesied me many a year
I shall not die but in Jerusalem,
Which vainly I supposed the Holy Land.
But bear me to that chamber. There I'll lie.
In that Jerusalem shall Harry die.

And in the same chamber Addison, Congreve and Prior lay in state before their splendid interment in the abbey.

Charlie Dunsmoor is dead. Comparatively few of the near half a million residents of Los Angeles county knew him, but twenty years or so ago there were few men in the county who were known so well. He was a politician and a politician without reproach. He filled the position of county clerk until he tired of it and resigned to become a bank examiner, finally becoming a member of the state bank commission, a position he held until very recently. There never was a suggestion of anything irregular or dishonest in the life of this man who was typical of a large proportion of our public servants, the most of whom do their work honestly and well, but for whom the public has no word of commendation. If one of them happens to go wrong, however, the facts of the case and many fanciful embellishments are quickly published to the world. The success of Charlie Dunsmoor as an officeholder was largely due to the simple honesty of his character; his word could be relied upon and he was not of that aggressive nature which is sometimes noticeable in aspirants for public office and which arouses unnecessary antagonism. He was a good citizen; to his spirit peace.

Samuel Johnson, writing to the "Idler," a hundred and fifty years ago, speaks of the feat performed by a certain horsewoman who rode one horse a thousand miles in a thousand hours. It is not such a far stretch from that time to this and neither horses nor women have greatly changed, but the narrative does sound surprisingly modern. In another essay the great writer laments the making of so many books as he found it difficult to procure subscriptions to one he was about to publish. But Solomon gave expression to the same regret three thousand years ago, and even in this day and generation there are those who believe that this matter is overdone. We turn books out so fast that the most industrious of the devourers of "Best Sellers" can scarcely keep up with the procession. Our old authors who really put genius into their work are almost forgotten, being only saved from oblivion by having a centenary observed now and then, as recently in the case of Dickens, whose works are being resuscitated now for a short time, but will soon be put upon the shelf again.

I have just been reading John McGroarty's "California—Its History and Romance," and find it just such a book as a poet might write, for McGroarty is essentially a poet. His poetic imagination however does not run away with him; nor obscure his sense of the importance of facts in the writing of a history. His subject is in itself a romance and he would be a dull chronicler indeed who could keep it out of his story. Handled by a writer with the genius of McGroarty, the subject fairly glows with the glamor of its magnificent past and the splendid promise of its future. The opening chapters that tell of the voyages and trials of the early navigators along the California coast, their discoveries, expeditions and conquests, and the building of the state, are perhaps the most alluring part of the book. At least you think it must be so until you read the wonderful story of the Missions, and that wonderful worker, Father Junipero. But as you turn the pages you come to the Spanish and the Mexican eras, each crowded with pen pictures of the "Splendid Idle Forties" and before! Then the history of the Argonauts, and even the modern chapter of the "Five Miracles;" all are so thoroughly enjoyable that every seperate chapter seems better than the others. A number of Mr. McGroarty's best poems find fitting places here and there among his gems of prose.

San Francisco, March 18.—"California Raisin Day," inaugurated three years ago, will be celebrated again this year on the thirtieth day of April. Raisin Day has now become an annual affair and there is hardly a part of the United States where raisins are not eaten on this occasion.

It was inaugurated three years ago by the raisin growers of California and the Southern Pacific Company and everybody in the country, on the thirtieth day of April, became afflicted with "Raisinetis." Throughout the entire country the railroads prepare special menus for their dining cars, all of which contain some dish which has for one of the ingredients raisins. The committee in charge of the affair this year are planning for the issuance of 40,000 posters and window cards, 100,000 post cards and approximately 2,000,000 stickers.

TROPICO

Nine hundred and twenty-five voters are registered at Tropico for the coming election. Of this number 473 are women and 452 are men.

A hard-time dancing party was given in Knights of Pythias hall by Vizor Lodge No. 293, K. of P. The affair was well attended and proved to be one of those enjoyable affairs for which the lodge is noted.

A lot has been purchased at the corner of Riverdale Drive and Columbus streets by Dr. C. G. Stivers of Los Angeles, examining physician for the Fraternal Brotherhood lodge. Dr. Stivers intends building a modern home on this new acquisition immediately.

N. C. Burch of this city has been appointed by the board of trustees to attend the conference of residents of this section with William Mulholland at Burbank this morning, the object of which will be the participating of this section with Los Angeles in the ownership, distribution, etc., of the Owens river water.

Monday evening the Baraca and Philathia classes of the Presbyterian Sunday school were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Baker on Cypress street. The evening was pleasantly passed in games and music, after which refreshments were served. About thirty young people attended the affair.

Mrs. Rose V. Winterburn and Dwight Griswold are the two candidates from this place who are running for trustee for the Glendale union high school district.

Mr. and Mrs. Cover C. Melrose, who for the past several months have been living in a mining town in Arizona, have returned with their child to this place to live.

An ordinance has been prepared by City Engineer Edward M. Lynch, establishing the grade of Brand boulevard which lies between the city limits of this city on the north and Park avenue on the south. The city engineer has estimated the cost of improving Laurel street at 50 cents per linear front foot. The city trustees have adopted a resolution to improve this thoroughfare.

The Tropico postoffice is cosily located in its new quarters in the Davis grocery company's store. Miss Harriet Myers, who for the past year or so has been working in the office, has been retained and will have charge of the office hereafter. The carrier went on at Tropico Monday morning and everything is working in fine order. Many of the residents of this place have been stirring up the mail box manufacturing man and as a result neat boxes now adorn many of the homes of the city.

Miss Catherine Hobbs entertained a number of her young friends at her home on Central avenue Tuesday evening. The rooms were prettily decorated for the affair with many flowers and greenery and the time was pleasantly passed in playing games. Refreshments were served at quite a late hour. Those present were Misses Blanche Shea, Lynn McNutt, Gene McNutt, Stella Miller, Elisa Vance, Catherine and Dorothy Hobbs and Mable Evans; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Stevenson, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Logan, Mr. and Mrs. Hobbs, Messrs. Dwight Stevenson, Harry Marple, Hal McNutt and Mr. Russell of Glendale.

Eighty acres lying in the Richardson tract, south of the Pacific Electric line and west of the Southern Pacific tracks have been purchased by a syndicate of wealthy Pasadena business men and will be opened and improved at once. This is a part of the Richardson ranch and is a very desirable piece of land. It lies wholly within the city limits of Los Angeles. Work of improving the tract with streets, graded and oiled, curbing and sidewalking, etc., will start at once and the work will be rushed to completion. It is proposed to erect many homes on this tract within a very short time. This tract is just across the Southern Pacific tracks from the tract now being improved by the Pacific Home Builders of Los Angeles.

TROPICO METHODIST NOTES.

The Ladies' Aid of the church held a business meeting in the church Tuesday afternoon.

Today the Woman's Foreign Missionary society held an all-day prayer meeting in the Tropico church. Representatives from Glendale, West Glendale and Burbank were present.

Next Sunday morning the regular Easter children's program will be given in the church at 11 o'clock. A good program has been arranged.

THE CONSOLIDATED WATER COMPANY.

The Glendale Consolidated Water Company has, we hear, thrown up the sponge and is just about ready to go into the hands of the receivers. This state is brought about by the inability of the company to pay interest on its bonds which became due July 1, 1911, and January 1, 1912. Ralph Rogers, a party who knows the inside workings of the company, is reported as having stated that Dwight Griswold, John A. Pirtle, and Hugh Glassell, who, by the way, appears to have skipped the country, are responsible for the present difficulty of the company. A statement will be presented to the holders of the bonds of the company within sixty days by Mr. Rogers.

TROPICO PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

There will be a special Easter program at this church next Sunday morning. In addition to the selections rendered by a quartet composed of Mr. and Mrs. John Hobbs, Mrs. Andrew Stevenson and Harry Marple, there will be music by a chorus choir. A feature of the service will be the installation of William Klee, who was recently elected to the eldership. The subject of the morning discourse will be, "The First Easter Morning." "The First Eastern Morning" will be the subject of the evening sermon.

At the union service held in this church last Sunday evening, Rev. S. W. Carnes of the Methodist church preached an excellent sermon, which was greatly appreciated by the large congregation present.

WILL REGULATE WATER RATE.

One of the most important steps ever taken by the Tropico board of trustees will be taken soon; this step being in the regulation of the local water rate. At the present time the rate of $1.50, for a minimum of 800 is charged, with eight cents for each additional 100 feet. The Tropico trustees are considering an ordinance which will reduce the minimum charge to $1.25, with five cents for each additional 100 feet. The ordinance provides that meters may be installed by either consumer or the water company, and in case the water company installs the meter the charge therefore shall not exceed the cost of the meter. It also makes the water bills payable in Tropico instead of Los Angeles, as is now the case.

BRIDGE WHIST.

On Monday Mrs. Wm. Harvey, jr., was hostess at one of the most charming social events of the season. The occasion was a meeting of the Tropico Bridge Club, complimentary to Mrs. Harvey's sister, Mrs. Frank G. Logan of Chicago and her daughter, Mrs. Chas. A. Munroe.

A dainty luncheon was served upon small tables decorated with brilliant marigolds and ferns. After this the guests waged friendly battle for the two artistic prizes, of which Mrs. Emil Tholen and Mr. A. L. Bancroft were the successful contestants.

The guests included Mrs. Frank G. Logan, Mrs. Chas. A. Munroe, Mrs. T. M. L. Richards, the Misses Richards, Mrs. A. L. Bancroft, Mrs. C. A. Bancroft, Mrs. Roy Bancroft, Mrs. Chas. A. Barker, Mrs. John H. Seaman, Mrs. H. Clay Seaman, Mrs. Oliver Merrill, Mrs. E. F. Tholen, Mrs. Chas. M. Turck, Mrs. Bronson Buxton, Mrs. Omar Richardson, Mrs. Frank Richardson, Miss Richardson, Mrs. Richardson, Mrs. A. O. Conrad, Mrs. Jos. Kirkby.

ELECTION AT TROPICO.

Tropico is peacefully dreaming over what may happen next Monday. The residents consider that as nothing very serious can take place they might as well grin and take it in good grace. There is nothing to the trustees' positions—five in the field and five to be elected. The greatest struggle will take place for the office of city clerk. S. M. Street, incumbent, and Mrs. Lou A. Gregory are battling for the honors. Apparently these contestants are running neck and neck. For the position of city treasurer, W. G. Black, a local real estate dealer, and Stillman E. Brown, deputy county assessor, are vying with each other. Our dusky friend says there is nothing to it, while our Brown brother, claims it is all over but the shouting.

Two questions will come up before the voters for decision. These are: "Shall each member of the board of trustees of the city of Tropico receive as compensation for his services as such member the sum of three dollars ($3.00), for each meeting of said board actually attended by such member, not exceeding one meeting each week," and "Shall the ordinance entitled, 'An ordinance prohibiting billiard halls, pool rooms and places where billiard and pool tables are for hire or public use in the city of Tropico, and repealing section 11 of ordinance No. 6, of said city providing for licensing billiard halls and pool rooms,' be adopted."

NOTICE OF STREET WORK.

Public notice is hereby given that the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, on the 11th day of March, 1912, did, at its meeting on said day, adopt a Resolution of Intention, No. 453, to order the following improvement to be made, to-wit:

First. That all that portion of Sixth Street from the Easterly line of Glendale Avenue to the Easterly Boundary line of the City of Glendale, including all intersections of Streets (excepting therefrom the intersections of Sixth Street and Adams Street and Sixth Street and Verdugo Road) be graded, oiled and macadamized in accordance with the plan and proffle on file in the office of the City Engineer, and Special Specifications for grading, oiling and macadamizing said portion of Sixth Street on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, which said Special Specifications were duly adopted for said work by Resolution No. 451 by the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale.

Second. That a cement curb be constructed along each line of the roadway of said Sixth Street from the Easterly line of Glendale Avenue to the Easterly boundary line of the City of Glendale, excepting that said cement curb shall be omitted along the north line of the roadway of said Sixth Street from the Easterly line of Glendale Avenue to the West line of Adams Street, including returns at all street intersections, excepting any such intersections upon which a cement curb has already been constructed upon the official line and grade.

Said curb to be constructed in accordance with the specifications for the construction of cement curbs on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, said specifications being numbered 2.

Third. That a cement sidewalk five (5) feet in width be constructed along the south side of said Sixth Street from the Easterly line of Glendale Avenue to the West line of Adams Street, and along both sides of said Sixth Street, from the East line of Adams Street to a point 631.86 feet Easterly therefrom, including returns at all street intersections, (excepting along such said described portions of said Sixth Street upon which a cement sidewalk five (5) feet or more in width has already been constructed to the artificial line and grade) said sidewalks to be constructed according to the specifications for the construction of cement sidewalks on file in the offie of the, City Clerk of the City of Glendale, said specifications being numbered 1.

Fourth. That culverts shall be constructed at the intersection of Sixth Street and Adams Street and at a point on Sixth Street 631.86 feet East from the East line of Adams Street in accordance with Special Plans and Specifications for the construction of said culverts on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, whih Special Plans and Specifications were duly adopted for said work by Resolution No. 450 by the Board of Trustees of said City.

Section 2. That the said Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale finds upon estimate directed to be furnished and furnished by the City Engineer of said City of Glendale, that the total cost of said proposed work or improvement will be greater than fifty (50) cents per front foot along each line of said street so proposed to be improved, as hereinbefore set forth, including the cost of intersection work assessable upon said frontage; and said Board of Trustees determines that serial bonds shall be issued to represent the cost of said work or improvement; said serial bonds shall be extended over a period ending nine (9) years from and after the second day of January next succeeding the date of said bonds, and an even annual proportion of the principal sum thereof shall be payable by coupon on the second day of January every year after their date until the whole is paid, and the interest shall be payable semi-annually by coupon on the second days of January and July, respectively, of each year, at the rate of seven (7) per cent per annum on all sums unpaid, until the whole of said principal and interest are paid. Said bonds shall be issued in accordance with the provisions of an Act of the legislature of the State of California, entitled, "An Act to provide a system of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost of street work and improvement within municipalities, and also for the payment of such bonds," approved February 27th, 1893, and of all acts supplementary thereto, or amendatory thereof.

Reference is hereby made to said Resolution No. 453 for further particulars of said work.

O. W. TARR,
Street Superintendent of the City of Glendale.

We sell for spot cash only and are honestly giving our customers more for their dollars than they can secure elsewhere. Operating two stores, we have an advantage in quantity buying, and our customers get the benefit of it. Unfair but vigorous efforts are being made to put us out of business; some of the more timid wholesalers refuse to sell us their goods unless we agree to advance our prices to the highest level. This we will not do and have since found a way to secure their goods in spite of their cunning, and can now give those fellows the "HORSE-LAUGH."

However, the fight is on and we feel it is yours as much as ours. All we ask is your continued patronage and we will win out. We deliver all orders amounting to 50 cents.
